As an experienced former assistant treasurer on the GTS Advisory team that covers the Americas, Europe, Middle East and Asia, Michael delivers operational insights and strategic guidance to establish, develop and transform treasury organizations. Michael's 20 year career is rooted in corporate treasury technology transformations, allowing him to offer unique guidance between conceptual thinking and treasury digitization.

Previous Experience

Prior to joining the bank, Michael was the assistant treasurer at the Chemours Company. In this role, he led the establishment, development and ultimately the transformation of the entire treasury organization. He had direct responsibilities for treasury, credit, accounts receivable, accounts payable and corporate risk management. Prior to Chemours, Michael held corporate treasury facing positions at FIS Global, Treasury Strategies, SWIFT, DuPont and Saint-Gobain.

Michael has participated in numerous client advisory panels, speaks on treasury related challenges and has consulted on several innovations panels.

Michael holds a finance degree from Villanova University. He lives in Avalon NJ with his wife and two young children.
