

The City of Annapolis
Assistant Director of Finance

The City of Annapolis is seeking an Assistant Director of Finance to assist the City in all aspects of its financial operations. The Assistant Director manages the accounting, accounts payable, payroll, financial reporting, cash management, billing, and collections activities of the City and will be expected to identify and implement efficiencies in department operations. Additionally, the Assistant Director assists the Director of Finance in other activities as needed. The successful candidate should be dynamic and innovative, able to demonstrate expertise in implementing time and cost saving measures, and possess an understanding of local government operations, government accounting, and financial reporting.

Find more details on this position at www.annapolis.gov.