

Kristen Ahearn joined the Baltimore City Department of Planning in 2016. As the Capital Improvement Program Planner, she works with all city agencies to prepare the City's six-year Capital Improvement Program. Prior to working for Baltimore City, she worked for Johns Hopkins University's Center for Government Excellence and the State of Maryland. Kristen earned her bachelor's degree in psychology and master's degree in urban and environmental planning at the University of Virginia. Outside of work, she enjoys camping with her husband and two daughters and being outdoors on the water.